WITH JOANNA WEAVER

Type 1 - MORAL PERFECTIONISTS reflect God's rightness & goodness*

Express gratitude for their perspective. Be quick to ask for forgiveness. Share responsibilities so they don't carry the load alone. Remind them often that they are loved by you and Christ.

Type 2 - SUPPORTIVE ADVISERS reflect God's love & nurture*

Affirm them by pointing out specific things they do, but be clear that you love them simply for being them. Remind them how cherished they are by God apart from what they do.

Type 3 - SUCCESSFUL ACHIEVERS reflect God's hope & radiance*

Appreciate their achievements but reassure them that you love them as they are and apart from what they do. Remind them that they can rest in what Christ has achieved for them.

Type 4 - ROMANTIC INDIVIDUALISTS reflect God's creativity & depth*

Seek to know them deeper and acknowledge the gifts they bring. Remind them that they are not flawed but beautifully created and uniquely designed by God.

Type 5 - INVESTIGATIVE THINKERS reflect God's wisdom & truth*

Seek to understand their approach to life. Help them prepare for social gatherings. Give them time to recharge and find ways to serve their needs. Remind them God will give them strength.

Type 6 - LOYAL GUARDIANS reflect God's faithfulness & courage*

Understand they have an internal committee causing self-doubt and anxiety. Demonstrate that you are fully committed and loyal to them. Remind them that God will never let them down.

Type 7 - ENTERTAINING OPTIMISTS reflect God's joy & abundance*

Recognize it is hard for them to sit in negativity and strive to bring reprieve by making things fun. Appreciate their positivity. Remind them that God is their source of life and satisfaction.

Type 8 - PROTECTIVE CHALLENGERS reflect God's power & protection*

Recognize and appreciate their vulnerable, tender side. Intentionally come along side of them rather than control or blindsides them. Remind them that they can trust you, but especially God.

Type 9 - PEACEFUL MEDIATORS reflect God's peace & oneness*

Demonstrate how much they matter to you. Give them space to think and ask for their opinions. Appreciate their ability to see all sides. Remind them often of your love and Christ's love.
